Los Angeles Law Firm Weinstock Manion
Announces New Name and New Website

Shorter name is tribute to estate planning firm's pioneering founders

LOS ANGELES (July 10, 2012) – Los Angeles-based law firm Weinstock Manion today announced that it has shortened its name and launched a new website. Founded over fifty years ago by Harold Weinstock, a pioneer in the estate planning field, and Brian Manion, a highly-respected business attorney, the firm's new name pays tribute to the solid platform they established. Previously named Weinstock, Manion, Reisman, Shore & Neumann, it is the largest specialty-firm in Los Angeles focused exclusively in the areas of estate planning, estate and trust administration, and estate and trust litigation.

"Hal Weinstock was a visionary who helped transform estate planning as a legal specialty," commented Sussan Shore, managing director of Weinstock Manion. "It is with great pride that our team of fourteen attorneys and seven paralegals continues his mission. Like Hal, we are committed to educating and helping our clients achieve all of their estate planning goals. We look forward to perpetuating his legacy for the next fifty years and beyond."

Weinstock Manion represents individuals, real estate investors, business owners, charitable organizations, beneficiaries and fiduciaries. The firm's attorneys and paralegals work closely with clients and their other trusted advisors to transfer wealth in a tax advantageous manner, administer estates and trusts, and resolve disputes among beneficiaries.

A cornerstone of the firm's philosophy is sharing knowledge with others in the estate and wealth management fields. Throughout the firm's history, the firm's attorneys have committed tremendous resources toward teaching estate planning and related courses at UCLA Extension, the USC Trust and Estate Conference, Continuing Education of the Bar seminars and other venues.
